Mount Mercy Academy Students Continue to Serve

The focus on community service continued at Mount Mercy Academy during February. The month started with a group of students, along with Mount Mercy Academy President Peggy Cronin and Campus Minister Mary Colby, prepared dinner for guests staying at the Ronald McDonald House. The group prepared chicken enchiladas, lime cilantro rice, a green salad and monster cookies for dessert.

The fundraising efforts for the Mercy Rising Project, an undertaking by the Mercy schools to support the rebuilding of a school on the border of Nigeria and Cameroon that was destroyed by the Boko Haram. The group had an Adamawa Auction which featured prizes donated by the faculty and staff, along with some students and the Sisters of Mercy. The auction raised almost a thousand dollars.

The school also had a dress down day to support Catholic Charities and raised over four hundred dollars. A group of students also spent an afternoon playing board games with the Sisters of Mercy at the Mercy Center.
