Mount Mercy Students Compete in MoneySKILL Mania 2016

Mount Mercy's Personal Finance students will compete in the annual MoneySKILL Mania contest sponsored by the University of Buffalo and M & T Bank. Thirty-four of Dawn Robertson's students will join in with 800 other Western New York students from 23 different schools.

The competition which takes place during the month of April consists of 40 multiple choice questions based on the material covered in the MoneySKILL program or on a current event. All schools are given the same questions. Current event questions are based on happenings in finance and the global economy during the past year.

The questions must be answered during a class and on a computer. Students have one hour to complete the test questions.

The highest scoring student from all of the entrants will receive an Apple iPad. The second and third place finishers will earn 250 dollars for college and the highest scoring student from each school will receive a 50 dollar Amazon gift card. Winners will be announced May 4th.
