

Mount Mercy Academy

Summer Reading 2022

SUMMER READING

This year, students in all grade levels 9-12 will be required to read one book from the list provided on page 2 and complete the assignment listed below. The books will contain content that relates to some of the Critical Concerns of the Sisters of Mercy.

These critical concerns include:

- Earth: We believe in the need for sustainability of life, supporting both a lifestyle and legislation that acknowledges everyone's right to water and the need to address climate change.
- Women: Through our schools, colleges, health-care institutions and spirituality centers, and through our legislative advocacy, we give special attention to women's education, health and spirituality.
- Nonviolence: We work for peace through prayer, education, personal and communal practices of nonviolence, and legislative advocacy to reduce armed conflicts, gun violence and human rights abuses.
- Immigration: Believing firmly in the dignity of every person, we work for just and humane immigration laws in the U.S., address policies that push people to flee their countries, and examine the global impact of immigration.
- Racism: We believe racism is an evil affecting us all. We work to recognize and dismantle institutional racism in order to become an anti-racist multicultural community.

Assignments:

1. While you are reading, carefully and thoughtfully annotate the text. A specific list of tips to help you with annotations is included on page 5 of this packet. You will receive a grade for your annotations during the first week of school. The rubric for the annotations assignment is included on page 6 of this packet.
→ PLEASE NOTE: If you borrow your book from the library and annotate with post-it notes, you MUST make arrangements to keep the book until after the first week of school so your annotations can be graded. Notes on a separate sheet of paper will not be accepted and no exceptions will be made.
2. Your English teacher may also choose to give you additional readings, writing assignments, and/or assessments based on your careful analysis of your summer reading. Please find the course you will be enrolled in for the 2022-2023 school year beginning on page 3 of this packet to see if there are any additional requirements.

Choose ONE of the following selections
(not one you read last year)

AP English Literature (12th Grade)

1. Read and annotate your summer reading selection.
2. Read and annotate three additional selections: Counting Descent by Clint Smith, Fahrenheit 451 by Ray Bradbury, and Much Ado About Nothing by William Shakespeare.
 - After reading and annotating, you should make a list of thematic similarities among these three texts.

During the first two weeks of classes, you will demonstrate your careful reading and thoughtful analysis of the required reading through:

1. Your annotations of the selections. Please review the annotation tips (page 5) and rubric (page 6).
2. Your composition of an AP-style essay which requires you to demonstrate your analysis of the texts.
3. Additional analytical activities and discussions that will require you to use your annotations and thematic similarities notes.

ANNOTATION TIPS

The goal of annotating is to create a conversation between yourself and the text you are reading in order to develop a deeper meaning of the material. When you are reading, have a pencil and a highlighter (or multiple highlighters) close by and follow the strategies listed below. Keep in mind that you do not necessarily need to use every strategy on every page of the text.

1. Record keywords, or topics, in the margins whenever you encounter the topic in the text.
2. Make brief notes at the top of the page or on sticky notes to mark important plot events. At the end of a section or chapter, write yourself a brief summary of what happened.
3. If you are having difficulty understanding, stop and read again. Sometimes it is helpful to break a difficult passage or even sentence down into parts and try to understand it a little at a time. It is okay to do this. Good readers do it all the time. You may want to use a sticky note or the margin to write down your interpretation of the difficult text.
4. Use check marks, asterisks, arrows, stars, etc. to mark important items or details. If you highlight, you could use different colors for different things and create a key for your color codes.
5. Circle or highlight words that are unfamiliar or unusual. Try to figure out what the words mean through the way they are used; supplement your guesses by consulting a dictionary.
6. Highlight phrases that describe important characters and places (characterization and setting).
7. Highlight words, images, and details that seem to form a pattern, or motif, throughout the text. These patterns usually will lead the close reader to discover a thematic idea.
8. Mark passages that you think might be symbolic.
9. Highlight the use of figurative language and other literary devices. Look specifically for the common ones (simile, metaphor, allusion) and consider the author's purpose for using that element in the story. It would be a good idea to take some notes in the margin so you will remember what you were thinking.
10. If you get an idea, write it down! It may never occur to you again. If a question pops into your head, write it down in the margin and continue reading to see if you discover the answer.
11. Write notes when you formulate an opinion about a character, setting, or event. Document any inferences you make while reading. Make connections to previous sections of the text. Record your feelings, reactions, and comments with words and/or symbols (ex: lol, OMG, WHAT???).
12. Don't highlight/underline/mark everything!! If you mark too much, nothing will stand out and you will have defeated the purpose of annotating.

ANNOTATION RUBRIC

Excellent: 30 points

Text has been thoroughly annotated with questions, observations, and reflections of the content as well as the author's writing; variety of topics marked for discussion; variety of literary devices marked. Comments demonstrate analysis and interpretation – thinking goes beyond the surface level of the text. Thoughtful connections are made to other texts, life experiences. Marginal comments accomplish a great variety of purposes. Consistent markings appear throughout text (not bunched).

Proficient: 20-25 points

Text has been annotated reasonably well with questions, observations, and/or reflections of the content as well as the writing. Comments demonstrate some analysis and interpretation – thinking somewhat beyond the surface level of the text. Attempts at making connections are evident. Marginal comments accomplish a variety of purposes. Some lapses in entries exist; may be sporadic

Adequate: 10-15 points

Text has been briefly annotated. Commentary remains mostly at the surface level. The commentary suggests thought in specific sections of the text rather than throughout. There is little or no attempt to make connections.

Inadequate: 0- 5 points

Text has little to no annotations. The notes do not reveal a close reading of the text.
